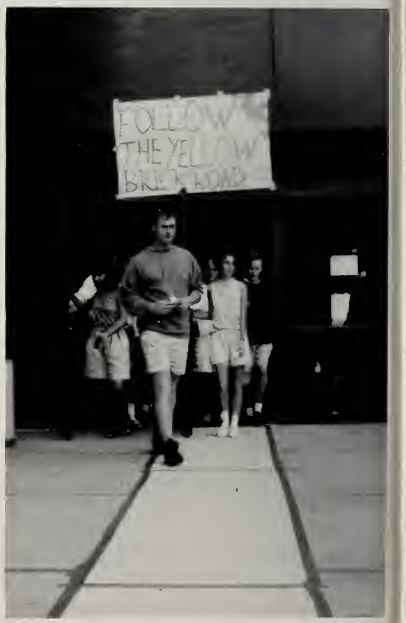
Surrender F. S. C.



SUAB's Fall Sandbox took you on a trip to the Emerald City to meet the Wizard of Oz! On September 21 the College Center went for a spin in a twister and landed on the Wicked Witch of the East and visitors could see her striped legs and ruby slippers. Even the entrance to the building mysteriously transformed into the yellow brick road.

The street carnival held on State Street offered many games and prizes for all those who visited. The wizard was there to do magic right before your eyes!! And who could forget the talented munchkins doing death defying stunts on their bikes. Comedians, caricaturists, a crystal ball reader and newspaper headlines were also available for entertainment. Friday came to a close with the performance of Campus Talent in the Upper Sandbox. Saturday Night's feature was a scavenger hunt for the Witch's Broomstick. This September there truly was NO PLACE LIKE SANDBOX.

Entire College Community Rallies Together

October brought about the largest rally since the Vietnam War. Spearheaded by Framingham State, over 20,000 State College and University students rallied at the Boston State House, demanding our rights to affordable education. Attracting major media attention we communicated to the entire state that we did care about our futures, public higher education is our right, no a privilege.

Homecoming

"PUTTIN' ON THE RITZ", October 12th thru October 15th marked another weekend of exciting traditional and new activities.

Homecoming `89 kicked off Friday afternoon with the decorating of the Residence Halls. Peirce Hall won first place, $100, with the theme "Puttin' on the Ritz". On Friday evening, the semi-formal dance was held at Indian Meadows where students danced to the music and videos of the "Ultimate Video Show." Included in the festivities was a Limo ride raffle. Saturday began with a new attraction of a pre-game barbeque held in the tennis courts. The Rams tried but Bridgewater got the best of our Football players with the game score of 42-20. Saturday evenings feature was the Comedy Cabaret. Sunday the weekend closed with Senior Investiture.

"The Dining Room"

On November 16-18, 1989 the cast, under the direction of David M. Maslow, drew the crowds in and kept them laughing in their seats the entire length of the production.

With the stage set in an unconventional location, in the middle of the Forum, the audience was able to view different angles of the performance.

This humorous theatrical selection was a tremendous success for the club's traditional fall drama. The play featured a team of actors who adeptly met the challenge of having to play several different character roles. The production was broken up into segments allowing the piece to span various times as seen through changing dining rooms in WASP New England. A.R. Gurneys play encompasses the old, the young, and the dying social stigma of Dinner Parties.

The student actors worked extensively to present a well-crafted show that ranged from the comic to the tragic.

The Cast members were: Karen Blake, Robert Bleakney, Candace Daneau, Kristen L. Daly, Stephen Farias, Norman H. Laviolette, Nicole Marotta, Bart Orban, Erika Pitt.

Caribbean Night Fund Raiser

Thanks to Father John Culloty and a handful of dedicated students at FSC, the annual trip to Haiti is fast becoming a campus tradition. Every year more students partake in the week long excursion to the third world country. In anticipation of the 1990 trip, a "Caribbean Night" dance took place in the Snack bar and pub February 16th. The sold out fund-raiser featured a tropical atmosphere, plenty of dancing, and most importantly a Limbo contest. Proceeds from the dance totaled over $1,200.

The Tradition Continues

In celebration of Black History Month in February, both students and the rest of the college community were treated to a host of cultural and social activities. For the first time, the planning committee organized a panel discussion entitled "RAPin' in the 90's": Racial Attitudes Progressing the group, consisting of students, faculty, and staff, explored their feelings and attitudes regarding racial issues. It was suggested by many people present, that these panel discussions be replicated throughout the year to explore these feelings further. Other educational activities included Shirley Chisholm's speech on "Humanism for Blacks and Whites", and the works of Liberian photographer Ma Belcher featured in the Mazmanian Gallery. For entertainment during the month, Culture in Effe sponsored a dance in the snack bar with D.J. Jomo King, Kristine Key and her Quartet performed at th annual Jazz Dinner, and the "Women of the Calabash" entertained a crowd in Dwight Hall with the African musical. The month of events came to an end with Calypso Hurricane's Reggae dance o February 22.

Phon-a-thon `90

The first Annual Giving Phonathon was a success! During the 12 nights of calling, 100 students, faculty, staff and alumni volunteers made calls resulting in 626 pledges, 524 of which were from alumni who had never given to the annual fund before. The phonathon ended with a total of $14,530 raised!

The purpose of the Phonathon was to raise funds to be used for academic programs, books for the library, equipment in labs, recreational facilities and equipment and scholarships.

Seven students co-chaired the fund-raising efforts: Heather Barrett, Sheila Consoli, Liz Lang, Cathy Mantegani, Geno Martino, Dave Miscia, and Jim Reed.

The Phonathon was wrapped up with a Victory Pizza Party where various prizes were awarded to some of the participants. An award was given to the group of callers that volunteered the night $1,900 was raised, the highest amount of the phonathon. An award was also given to those present on the night that 52% of alumni agreed to pledge.

Ray Correllus and Stacey Iwanski hosted the fifth annual Ram Aid Lip Sync contest on March 29th. Fourteen student groups performed that evening to a sold out crowd in Dwight Auditorium. Spectators commented that this year's groups were the best in history. First place was taken by We Degenerate Juvenile Minds with the song "Stigmata". Their performance consisted of dressing in black with punk hair styles while dancing under a strobe light. With the setting of a classroom in the 1950's and the subject matter of Health education, Second Place went to The Sweet Tarts singing "Reproduction". Alpha Delta Ziegle Larned 5 received Third Place for the performance of "Love Shack".

Alice in Wonderland

Instead of producing a time-honored work this Spring, tl Hilltop Players challenged themselves with an original interpret tion of a fairy tale. "Alice in Wonderland" was probably the first Hillt production in years to be conceived and presented by students. Co-Directors Rik Sansone and Gr Rotatori decided to veer away from the traditional fairy tale and instead offer their impression of a mo adult orientated "Alice in Wonderland". The vast numbers of students that dedicated their time to set lights, costumes, and performance showed that there is a strong campus interest in Theatre.

The Mad Hatter offers The March Hare another cup of tea.

Is Television the Curse of the 20th Century?

The issue "Television is the Curse of the 20th Century" was disproved at the annual Oxford Union Debate, April 18th. The team defending the proposition was Karen Golden and Greg Rotatori of FSC and Craig McCurly and Nick Shear of Oxford Union. The winning side opposing the proposition included Marianne O'Brien and Lynn Valcourt of FSC and Nick Edgar and Stephanie Young of Oxford Union.

Arguments for the proposition entailed points such as the decline in reading and performing arts as a result of T.V., television distorts realities of racism and sexism, and the problem of unsupervised children's' viewing. Debate against the proposition counter pointed that television is the epitome of the democratic process, and that T.V. could be credited with assisting in the breakdown of the Eastern Bloc. It was also argued that television doesn't breed ills, it reflects them. The issue was put to an audience voice vote, which resulted in the nays having the victory opinion.

The Competition Continues

Battle of Campus Talent

A three weekend long event, Battle of the Bands, was sponsored by The President's Council. The goal of the event was to entice students to stay on campus for the weekend instead of following in the tradition of our "suitcase college". This campus wide competition for the best band began on Friday, March 30 with five bands performing and then Friday April 6 when four bands played. Two winners from each evening "Battled" it out on Saturday April 21. Saturday's line-up was Cosmic Box, The Nones, Watership Down and I4NI. The final winner from this extended event was Watership Down. Watership Down's prize was to play a Thursday Pub night.

Sand box 29

F. S. C. turned into a huge cellblock for Spring Sandbox by the hard working team of SUAB.

Norman Bigelow, escape artist at large, was available to perform terrifyingly dangerous stunts involving knives, handcuffs, ropes and even a gas chamber!

Traditional Sandbox Carnival activities by SUAB and a variety other groups offered guessing games, video buttons and old fashion pictures. But, who could forget that wonderful event sponsored by the Class of `92, The Dunking Booth. It was a cold and chilly day, but those devoted, and somewhat crazy, individuals, such as Fr. John, Ron Patterson, Kelly Krebs, Teri Turmel, and, of course, Dennis Tarr, dared to be dunked in the freezing, cold water! Volunteers, just remember, it was all for a good cause. Earthday was part of Sandbox weekend as well. Awareness regarding our environment was provided by FSCPirg. Activities included live music, speakers, and Earthday `90 T-shirts.

Reggae music filled the air that evening, with the searchlights on, featuring the Boston area group Bim Skala Bim. Saturday afternoon, the final competition of the Battle of the Bands was held. Students participated in the hysterical game show, Blizzard of Bucks that evening. Geno Martino was the big winner, grasping over $200. Sunday, the weekend culminated with the Psychedelic Furs &O Positive in concert.

Football

The Rams 1989 season proved to themselves, and the rest of the conference that Framingham State was a force to be reckoned with. They opened up with an impacting and motivating win over U-Mass Boston, and went on to defeat Mass Maritime, Fitchburg State and Westfield State giving them an overall record of 4-5.

Many questions were also answered by the team's performance on the field. The once scoffed at offensive line, under the leadership of Kevin Gosnell and Charlie Reid, turned into a finely tuned impenetrable machine. With the offensive line giving quarterback Scott Raynes more than enough time he was always ready to execute scoring plays to Wide receiver Dennis Tarr and runningbacks Dan Connelly and Frank Perfetuo.

On the other side of the coin, the defense earned the title of being the most feared in the conference. With defensive backs like John O'Brien, Chris McDermott and Bob Connors a passed ball quickly became an incomplete one. The defensive line was impossible to control with Steve Fernandes, Bob McCuin and Ed Herreira stopping any play within their grasp. This defensive onslaught was topped off with the considered to be, best linebacker in the conference, Doug Ragusa, who led the team in every aspect of the game.

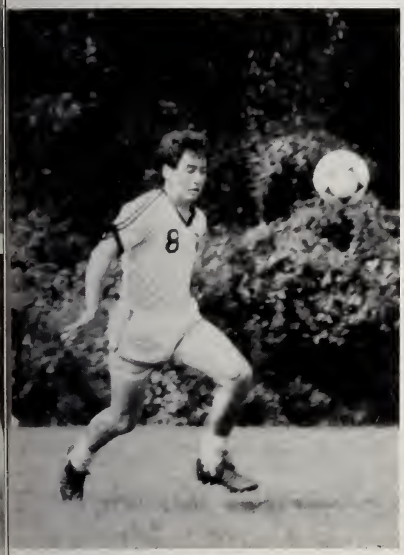
Next year, despite the loss of some key senior players, the Rams should have no trouble in improving their record to a winning, and even championship season.

Men's Soccer

This year the Rams were aced with a frustrating 1-13-1, overall ecord. Despite the determined and key playing by all the players, the team couldn't get the ball rolling in the winning column.

With the adjusting of positions and the losing of needed players to injury, the Rams did extremely well against many top Division III teams.

Next year the returning and experienced underclassman hold the team's fate in their hands. The ambition that was demonstrated on the field this past season by the leaving seniors, has been handed down, the Rams are looking at a winning season.



Women's Soccer

The 1989 Fall season ended with an overall record of 2-13. The Lady Rams were co-captained by Seniors Beth Minucci and Cathy Stevenson. The top scorers were Barbara Johnson, Cathy Stevenson and Kellie Dewar. Kellie was also MASCAC all conference winner. With a young but experienced team, the Rams are looking foward to a better season next fall.

Field Hockey

Together, as a team, they accomplished much more than they set out to. It was not all a winning season but still an important building season.

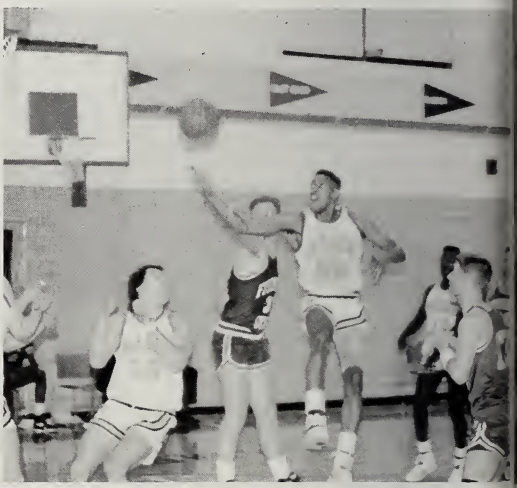
The team took on 11 freshmen to a group which had only played for one whole season together, and once again, had all new names, faces and skills to get used to. Add to that a new head coach, and yet another year with no 'real' practice field the season seems a little precarious but the team pulled through with a 6-9 record overall.

The season began with two wins, both 4-0 shutouts against Wheelock and Pine Manor. For a time F.S.C. shared with it's lady athletes a spark of hope and revelled in the undefeated status.

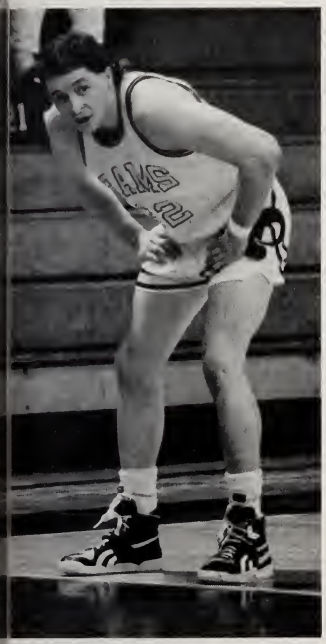
The competition got tougher and the team was bogged down by marginal losses to Babson, Westfield and, the conference champs, Bridgewater. On the long road to Maine, the team faced their toughest challenges. However, facing U. Southern Maine, they let only 3 goals go to the opposition and left with the satisfaction of being worthy adversaries. The team always kept faith in themselves, due to their own strong spirits and the support of their captains. The team was sad to lose two seniors and freshman study abroad student. Goalie, and sustaining captain, Josee Fridmann and defensive half-back, Maura Kennedy will both graduate and Nynke Bruin will return to her native Holland.

The elegant athletes, adorned in kilts, have spunk to get them through as well as skill and strength to bring them out on top. With two building seasons complete, the team looks forward to being the nemesis in division three Field Hockey next season.

Cross Country



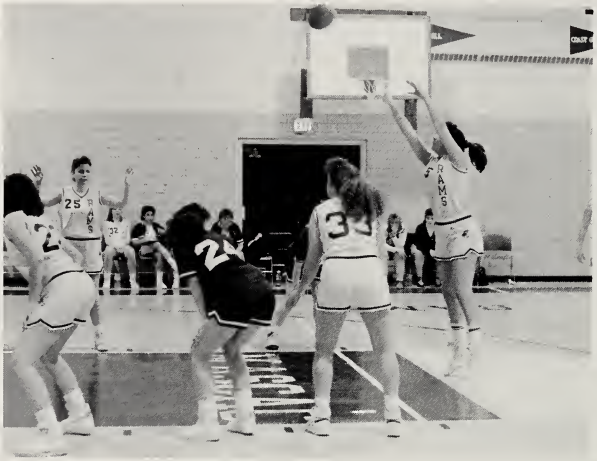
Men's Basketball



The 1990 season showed strong determination on the court for the men to improve their season record to 12-14. Captains Mark Baer and Sean Shuemate led the team to a victorious opening season only to be met with mid-season troubles.

Despite tremendous efforts from players Ilya Nicholas, Ian Cozier, Rich Wong, and Ray Morgan the last stretch of the season was a frustrating one.

Next year with the loss of four key seniors, the team will begin a rebuilding stage. This however should not be a problem with the strong show of force the young players had this past season.



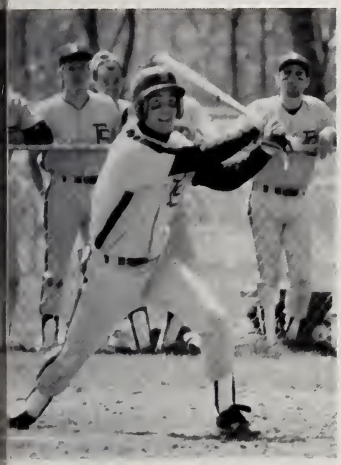
Women's Basketball

The Lady Ram's were stopped in their tracks from the opening toss up. The loss of key seniors the ladies found themselves in a rebuilding stage. Despite the tremendous efforts by veterans Cindy Cieslak and Sue Dieterle the teams record was played with injuries and inexperience ending in an upsetting 1-14 overall season. Cieslak led the team in points and rebounds with her talent and leadership the team's captain slot was filled perfectly. Close behind Cieslak was surprise new-comer Kathy Savage. Savage will be looked upon in future seasons to put the Lady Ram's back into the winning column. Now with an experienced and healthy bench the seasons ahead should prove that F.S.C. is once again a strong opponent.

Ice Hockey

The Ice Hockey team found themselves in a rebuilding limbo as the 1990 season progressed. The Rams finished with a 5-19-1 overall record despite the efforts of conference leaders David Mullahy, Brian Guillemette, John Greaney and Brooks Rice. Under the helm of new-comer Coach Tim Friday, the Rams found an abundance of talent in their new rookie squad. Although this once rookie and now veteran talent may not have been successful, this group of dedicated men has potential for next winters ice.

10



Baseball

The Ram's finished off the Baseball season with a winning record of 18-12. This year's team co-captains were First Baseman Jim Bartell and Pitcher Marc White. Mike Szczawinski, Catcher for the Rams, lead the league in home runs. Next spring with the returning of key players, an excellent season is expected.

Softball

The Women's Softball team led by co-captains Mary Barros and Gina Colella ended the season with an overall 11-18 record. The hot hitters of the season were Kathy Savage and Sharon Kirsch. With the return of experienced players, an excellent playing season is in close reach for next year's team.

Senior Countdown

February 15, 1990 marked the evening of the traditional senior class activity of "Senior Countdown". The Cape Cod Traveling All-Stars performed for a crowd of over four hundred students. The pictures show that fun was had by all.

Anyway, we were on a crowded bus and he sat down next to me and asked if I liked bear hugs ...

Senior Investiture

Senior Investiture was held on Sunday October 15, 1989. Investiture marks the first time the seniors convene as a class wearing caps and gowns. Families, friends and faculty members attended this old tradition to contemplate words of wisdom from all areas of the college community. Those in attendance were fortunate to hear from Dr. Richard Milaszewski, President FSC Professional Association, Dr. Paul Weller, President, and Class President Marianne O'Brien. The Keynote Address was delivered by Dr. Ron Traill, Dean of Students at Canberra College of Advanced Education, Canberra Australia.

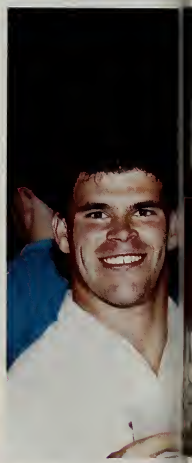
Senior Week 1990

Nick's Comedy Stop

The first Senior Week activity, Nick's Comedy Stop, was attended by over two hundred future grads and their friends. The night began upstairs where outrageous comedians performed for a full house. When the comedy ended, more good times were just beginning downstairs with late night dancing. The seniors, and even a few of the comedians, had a great time on the dance floor. Drinking, dirty dancing, and being merry proved to be the themes of the evening.

Video Dance

Wednesday evening earmarked the on campus event. The Snackbar and Pub were both jam packed with excited seniors and audiovisual equipment. The snackbar area was set up with two thirty foot wide video screens and a full liquor bar. Video cameramen made rounds in the Pub taping the various happenings. Between music videos the screen filled up with videos of the fun. The party broke up unusually early because the seniors were expected to attend Graduation Rehearsal early on Thursday morning.



Commencement Ball

The Ball was held Thursday night at the Marlborough Holiday Inn. Students and some faculty members arrived dressed to the nines and prepared to have a fabulous time. After a delicious dinner all were ready to dance the night away. Everyone had a ball.

Karen & Cathy, you can't wait for a ball to come your way all night!

Oh, The Places You'll Go

The traditional Baccalaureate Ceremony, held on graduation eve, was a last chance for the Class of 1990 to say good-bye to each other and to thank the people who supported them through their years at F.S.C.. After processing in with lit candles, the gowned participants listened to the Class of 1990 Executive Board's farewell speeches, and readings by Elisabeth Hogan and Larry Mosher. The Places You'll Go by Dr. Seuss was the focus of Wendy Noyes' Keynote address. Karen Macarthy provided the Class Reflection reading "Footprints" and Ruth Pearlman read he poem "Photo Albums". Hardly dry eye in the audience was le after each of these special reflec tions. As the ceremonial rose were given out to family an friends, by the class member classmate Cindy O'Donnell san "Wind Beneath My Wings".

Commencement Exercises

On Sunday, May 20, 1990, the Class of 1990 gathered on Framingham Green to receive their Diplomas. The Commencement Address was delivered by Mr. David Nyhan, Associate Editor, The Boston Globe. Honorary Degrees were conferred on Mr. Nyhan, Dr. Amar Bose and Dr. Elmer Salenius. Marianne O'Brien, Class President, also spoke. The cold and wet weather did not keep back family, friends, faculty and administrators from this important occasion.

From the Editor ...

By this point you have looked over the entire book. What do you think? I hope you enjoyed your stroll down memory lane. I attempted to capture a broad spectrum of faces and assortment of events. But, with all projects mistakes are bound to happen, so if you find any, I apologize. After all there comes a breaking point to all projects, and I'm afraid I hit mine the day after I graduated, (it's now July 30th).

Many mountains were conquered to complete this 73rd edition, the biggest of all was a lack of student interest. After much advertising a handful of students came through and dedicated their efforts. The photography in this book was done by two people, myself and Kristen; layouts were done by the same, but writing was done by Marsha, Kelly and Jean. During the summer months I recruited my apartment mates Sheila, Joe and Ruth to complete the remaining copy.

Over the past year several people have helped make this book a reality. To name all of them would take more space than I have, so for the sake of simplicity, a sincere thank-you is extended to everyone who helped me make this yearbook happen. However, a few people need special acknowledgment for their time and efforts. They are Norman Benrimo, the Photography company representative, Dick Swiech, the Publishing company representative, my family and friends, and the Student Activities staff. For everyone else who contributed to the success of this edition—thanks! !

All in all I feel confident that this yearbook will provide the catalyst for countless memories each time a member of the Class of 1990 leaf through these pages. Thanks F.S.C. for all the experiences and memories--it has been fun.

"Photo Albums"
by Ruth Pearlman

Marching in today
Our photo albums are almost filled
With the pages that remind us
Of all we've shared together
All the laughter and the times
We pulled each other through these past years
Today, we're packing up what we have known
The friendships stored away
We're leaving solid footprints here
As we turn toward tomorrow

Marching in tomorrow
They'll call us to the stage
The memories in our photo albums are turning another page
We're holding all the memories close
And even though we're leaving now the photographs of all of us
Will keep us here somehow
So we'll hold onto the friendships
That brought us here today
Friendships don't end tomorrow
Good-byes are just hard to say

Mission Accomplished, THANKS
